About Verlasso:

Verlasso is an ultra-premium salmon brand defined by its commitment to responsible aquaculture and exceptional quality. With nearly 15 years of expertise, Verlasso delivers a unique balance of sustainability and culinary excellence—crafted for discerning chefs and refined palates around the world.

A Salmon Like No Other

At Verlasso, every fish is the result of expert selection, years of knowledge, and a deep understanding of what the world's top chefs demand. Raised in the remote southern fjords of Patagonia, our salmon reflects the purity of its origin and the precision of our craft—yielding a product with flawless texture, vibrant color, and a clean, sophisticated flavor. Only the finest specimens are chosen for harvest, each one meeting our uncompromising standards. With same-day processing and priority logistics, we ensure that every fillet arrives at its destination in peak condition—delivering a culinary experience that is truly exceptional, and unmistakably Verlasso.

Why Verlasso?

- A groundbreaking ocean friendly diet which consists of non-salmon fish trimmings sourced from fish caught from certified sustainable fisheries, natural algae, vitamins and oils rich in Omega-3 to ensure the consistent flavor and color.
- No hormones. No preventative antibiotics.
- We can trave every fish from egg to harvest
- Pollutant free waters of the Patagonia
- Lots of room to grow spacious pens with only two fish for every cubic ton of water
- Verlasso uses only natural colorant sourced from the microorganisms found in aquatic environments and at the start of the food chain
- A delicious mild, clean, bright flavor and buttery texture.
